

The FarmHouse Foundation

Power of 7 Seminar

You're invited to apply to attend an exclusive weekend of networking, interacting and learning from leaders of U.S. business and industry including technology, law, energy, real estate, finance and agriculture!

This unique educational opportunity is available to seven of the best and brightest FarmHouse junior and senior undergraduates whose participation is fully-funded by the generosity of alumni attendees!

The Power of 7 Seminar weekend will take place April 24-26, 2009, at the luxurious Doral Desert Princess in Palm Springs, Calif. Attendees will participate in a first rate informal forum on the international business climate and economy with an emphasis on agriculture, technology and energy, and have the opportunity to ask questions and share your perspective on these topics.

"The Power of Seven Seminar was humbling and empowering at the same time. This conference has shown me that we are only limited by our own will and desire. I saw men who built their own paths and taken great risks by not following anyone else's path. I was given the privilege to see their driving forces and dreams. They have inspired me to never be afraid of failure, instead they taught me to fear not getting back up. This experience was very rewarding and something I will carry with me through my life."

– 2009 undergraduate participant Jonathon Mixon (TN '07)

The Power of 7 Seminar attendees will include seven top junior and/or senior undergraduate leaders; seven generous and devoted alumni who have each donated $7,000 to the 2008-09 Annual Fund; the FarmHouse Foundation Trustees and staff; members of the International Board and staff; and their spouses.

The Seminar begins with a welcome dinner on Friday evening, and Seminar roundtable sessions occur all day Saturday and again Sunday morning. We'll also have a chance to relax, enjoy the resort activities and each other's company. This dynamic Seminar is valued at $1,500 per person, however there is no cost for those undergraduates selected to attend.

Space is limited to seven juniors and/or seniors and will be chosen by a Foundation selection committee. Applications are due January 31, 2009, to the FarmHouse Foundation. For questions contact Allison Rickels at Allison@FarmHouse.org or (800) 722-1905.
